2. The award is meant to recognize accomplishments within the past year or few years.

III. Award Committee

A structural health monitoring person of the year (SHM–POY) will be selected by the editors and associate editors of Structural Health Monitoring: An International Journal. The award committee chair is Prof. Wieslaw Ostachowicz.

IV. Nomination procedure

1. The current open period for nominations is March and April, 2014.
2. Anyone can submit a nomination letter for the person of the year. A format for the nomination letter is inserted at the end of this document.
3. The nomination letters should be submitted by email to the SHM POY committee chair Prof. Wieslaw Ostachowicz (wieslaw@imp.gda.pl). A log of the nominations will be compiled.

V. Selection procedure

1. The letters of nomination will be sent to all associate editors and the editorial board. The editors will have one month (May 2014) to review the nominations and vote for their top three choices for the person of the year.
2. The Editor–in–Chief, scientific editor, and managing editor will review the nominations and the voting by the associate editors and based on the nominations and the responses of the associate editors make the final decision for the person of the year. The decision will be made by each of the three editors of SHM selecting one person as the person of the year. If there is not a majority (2 of 3 editors) selecting the same person, the Editor–in–Chief will make the final decision for the person of the year.

VI. Award presentation

1. The SHM POY award consists of a plaque to be presented at the SHM workshops, alternately held in Stanford and in Europe. The Stanford SHM workshops are held in September, the European SHM workshops are held in July (in 2014, Nantes, France).
2. There will be a short editorial in the SHM journal about the person selected each year for the award. This editorial will also recognize the person selected for the lifetime achievement award. (The lifetime achievement award is independent of the SHM journal.)
